Academic Program Highlights:

Chicago College of Osteopathic Medicine (CCOM)

The Chicago College of Osteopathic Medicine was founded in 1900. Currently, more than 6,000 CCOM alumni are in practice around the country. In 2018, 66% of CCOM graduates entered primary care residencies while the rest of the class also secured residencies in various specialties.

Chicago College of Pharmacy (CCP)

The Chicago College of Pharmacy was founded in 1991 to address the growing need for qualified pharmacists. Historically, CCP graduates pass the NAPLEX exam on the first attempt at or above national averages.

College of Health Sciences (CHS-Downers Grove)

The College of Health Sciences was founded in 1992 and provides students with the education and experience they need to become successful healthcare providers. The College includes five degree programs.

College of Dental Medicine – Illinois (CDMI)

The Chicago College of Dental Medicine was founded in 2009. CDMI students learn the interdisciplinary roles that are a part of the delivery of optimal oral health and gain clinical experience at the Dental Institute, part of the Midwestern University Multispecialty Clinic.

Chicago College of Optometry (CCO)

The Chicago College of Optometry was founded in 2014. The first class of students began their studies in fall 2017. The four-year program provides students with a strong foundation in the basic and visual sciences, the application of scientific principles to diagnose and manage eye disorders, and extensive patient care experiences under the supervision of expert optometry faculty members.

College of Graduate Studies (CGS)

Established in 2018, the College of Graduate Studies offers degrees on both campuses and upholds academic excellence by pursuing the advancement of knowledge as part of the academic triad of education, research, and service. The College endeavors to share existing knowledge, to create new knowledge, and to apply knowledge that contributes to improving the health of humans, animals, and the environment through One Health principles and practice.

One Health Initiative:

Midwestern University is committed to the principles of One Health, which fosters interdisciplinary cooperation between various human and veterinary medical specialties to fight disease, improve research and knowledge, and provide more complete care for all patients. The University has introduced several key initiatives that encourage students and faculty from all programs to collaborate and share expertise in both medical education and practice.
