

Key Facts

Midwestern University is a private, not-for-profit graduate degree-granting institution specializing in the health sciences with 14 colleges and two campuses.

- The Downers Grove Campus was purchased in 1986, and the Chicago College of Osteopathic Medicine moved from its prior home in Hyde Park, Illinois, to this western suburb of Illinois.
- MWU's faculty mix reflects a blend of experienced teachers, prominent scientists, and established clinicians.
- The University is accredited by The Higher Learning Commission, a Commission of the North Central Association (NCA) of Colleges and Schools
- Kathleen H. Goepfing, Ph.D. is the President and Chief Executive Officer.

One Health Initiative

Midwestern University is committed to the principles of One Health, which fosters interdisciplinary cooperation between various human and veterinary medical specialties to fight disease, improve research and knowledge, and provide more complete care for all patients. The University has introduced several key initiatives that encourage students and faculty from all programs to collaborate and share expertise in both medical education and practice.
