Dear Student:

Legislation for the Higher Education Emergency Relief Fund \(HEERF\)-II, was enacted by the Federal government at the end December 2020. Midwestern University has officially received the HEERF-II grant funding in the amount of approximately $2.8 million. Continuing with our focus on student success and well-being at the forefront, we will be making 100% of these funds available for student grants.

The main criteria for awarding the grant is to prioritize funding to students with exceptional financial 'need'. All student grant applications received, will be reviewed and awarded based on student 'need'. At this time, undocumented, DACA, and international students are not eligible. The Student Financial Services office anticipates the majority of grants will range from $300 to $500 based on eligibility and need. We encourage all eligible students to complete a FAFSA. An eligible grant application, submitted for a student without a FAFSA will receive $300.

The grant may be used toward:

- Any component of cost of attendance
- Emergency costs that arise due to coronavirus, such as:
  - tuition
  - food
  - housing
  - health care (including mental health)
  - child care
